RE: New Recording Software

Dear Customers:

I am pleased to announce that we will soon be going live on new recording software. The software "OnCore Acclaim" will replace the Landata Estar software which has been in place since 1995.

After an extensive review process, our evaluation committee selected Aptitude Solutions for the new recording software. Aptitude's glowing references and ability to meet our demands for product functionality, procurement budget and future support enabled us to move forward with securing up-to-date software that will improve our efficiencies and service to the public.

The Recording Department will use the OnCore Acclaim system to modernize Hernando County's official records system, deploying .NET technology and a robust new feature set for both staff and searchers. The software includes electronic recording, scan-first imaging technology, digital document stamping, flexible workflow, complete financials/cashiering, index/verification and search capabilities, as well as Web tools that provide instant, secure access for all constituents.

For those of you who have escrow accounts with us, the new software will allow you to review your account balance online, directly from our website. I will be notifying you soon about the live date for this software and about a hands-on training that we will provide for local searchers and title companies for navigating and searching our official records.

I hope you are as excited as we are about the new software. This change will allow us to continue our efforts in meeting the needs of our customers while providing efficient and cost-effective service.

Sincerely,

Karen Nicolai
